

Apple Recycling and Disposal Services

Bell's objective is to enhance the Apple experience by creating a valuable service to cost-effectively and efficiently dispose of end-of-life technology assets. Whether through remarketing, recycling or environmentally friendly disposal, Bell ensures that you maximize the value of your investment. Bell has decades of experience in delivering technical support solutions to educational institutions (Higher Ed and K-12), as well as to small, mid-sized and Fortune 500 companies. Bell's Technology Services result in solutions that deliver efficient, effective, and positive experiences to students, faculty and administrators.

Bell has had an established national education practice for over 25 years. This team represents more than 100 years of cumulative academic technology experience spanning K-12 to Higher Education. These dedicated technology professionals assist academic institutions in improving their learning environment by planning, deploying, servicing and managing the technology that drives their infrastructure.

The Business Challenge

- Does your School District have storage facilities filled with old Apple laptops or desktops?
- Do you have assets that are outdated or not being used?
- Have you put off disposing of them because you don't have the time, resource or know how?
- Do you know if they are in or out of warranty?
- Do you know if there is remaining value on those assets?
- Are you in compliance with your State's Green initiatives?

The Bell Techlogix Difference

Optimizing the Value

You have invested in the power of Apple technology and it's critical to ensure that you optimize the full lifecycle of that technology. As an Authorized Apple Service Provider with certified technicians in all Apple laptop and desktop computers, Bell will evaluate the current environment and make recommendations consistent with your school's future goals.

The Service

Bell's certified technicians will come on-site to help you evaluate your Apple computer platform to ensure that you are gaining the most from your investment. Our experienced and certified technicians will:

- Collect computers directly from your schools;
- Triage computers to diagnose problems;
- Determine condition and potential for refurbishment, remarketing or disposal;
- Provide information for inventory updates;
- Determine if machines are in-warranty or out;
- Clean and restore operating systems images in preparation for remarketing;
- Erase all remaining data and applications;
- Provide certificates of destruction for assets;
- Prepare assets for shipping to Apple for proper recycling or disposal.

The Benefit

You've already made a smart decision in choosing the power of Apple technology for your faculty, administrators and students. Ensure that you minimize your costs and utilize that power to its fullest by leveraging the expertise of one of Apple's leading service providers.
